

News Notes of the Stage Both Here and Elsewhere

York. The firm is to be the directors of the popular grand opera seasons at the Central Park West playhouse.

Pastori, the Hungarian prima donna, will begin a special season of concert appearances at the Hudson Theater, New York, this week.

James Thatch, manager of Polka, spent most of last week in New York City.

Harry Andrews, the new stage director of the Columbia Players, is proving one of the most capable directors the company has ever retained and is popular, both before and behind the footlights.

Cress and Josephine, well-known vaudeville acts, have signed a contract with the Mesera Shubert.

Brandon Tynan, who was the dreamy Joseph in "Joseph and His Brethren," all during the long Century Theater, New York, run, has gone stock-starting for the summer.

Dudley Hawley, the light comedian of the Polka Players, was one of the originals in "The Country Boy" when it was produced on Broadway two years ago.

Mme. Nazimova harbors one great ambition. She wants to make a tour around the world and play in each country she visits in the language of that country.

When "The Honeymoon Express" ends its long run at the Winter Garden late in June, Ina Claire, one of the stars of the piece, will sail for England to become a fixture at the Gayety, London.

Miss Blanche Sperry and Whitman P. O'Connell will make their first appearance as members of the Columbia Players this week.

Whitford Kane, the English character actor, who sailed for London and will not return until late in July, when he will have a number of new plays which will be offered for American production.

Pauline Frederick, who, as Potiphar's wife, was all season trying to overcome the scruples of Joseph in "Joseph and His Brethren," is going to take a run over to Europe in a few weeks.

Cyril Maude will play his first theatrical engagement in the United States this fall. George C. Tyler, head of the Lieber Company, which is bringing Mr. Maude over, describes the Briton as "the foremost English speaking actor in the world." Mr. Maude will be seen in a repertoire he has made famous in London.

Mark Kent will be seen as the old newspaper grocer in "The Country Boy" at Polka this week.

The annual musical diversion at the Columbia Theater is scheduled for a week when a revival of "The Time, the Place and the Girl" will be given by the Columbia Players.

Olive Brice will have an entirely new vaudeville act to present in the fall.

Florence Rockwell has been especially engaged for a limited season in a series of revivals to be given at the Columbia Theater, Salt Lake City. Miss Rockwell makes her appearance this week. Brandon Tynan will appear with her.

Mary Anderson de Navarro, part author of "The Garden of Allah," has announced her return to America next fall—another nonprofessional visit to the United States. She will be seen in a series of successful brain-childs.

George M. Cohan, accompanied by his wife and Francis X. Hope, the latter acting as courier in general, and confidential adviser in particular, will sail for Europe on the steamship Cedric, of the White Star Line, Wednesday, June 5.

"The Prince and the Pauper," a dramatization of Mark Twain's delightful story, will be the offering of the Columbia Players for the week of June 16.

Frederick Stanhope, who will have charge of the engagements for the Lieber Company for next season, sails for Europe Saturday. He will return late in July and will spend a fortnight touring those cities in which summer stock companies flourish in order that he may familiarize himself with the work of promising players in the stock line.

Edgar Selwyn, author of "The Country Boy," and "Polly of the Circus," are said to be the most successful married couple writing for the stage.

Sallie Fisher has closed her professional season and has gone to the mountains for rest.

Ian MacLaren, the English Shakespearean actor, will be seen in a new repertoire of Shakespearean plays this fall, commencing his season in California, where he will appear at the Greek Theater in the support of Margaret Anglin.

Edward Fielding is not to leave the company of Mme. Nazimova at the close of this season, as reported in New York.

Percival Lannon, who will be remembered locally for his excellent performance in "The Futurity Winner," "The Hold Up," and other vaudeville successes, is at present in Washington, ostensibly on a vacation. While here it is highly probable he will produce "The Shot," which is described as a dramatic playlet of unusual force. If "The Shot" proves successful here, it will immediately be taken to New York.

Royal Arcanum Day will be celebrated at Glen Echo Park on Tuesday, June 24. A big program of events, including a competitive drill and a championship ball game has been arranged.

HAMMERSTEIN JIBES AT METROPOLITAN

It is to be war between Oscar Hammerstein and the Metropolitan Opera Company, says Musical America. That is indicated in a letter sent to Mr. Hammerstein on Thursday, May 15, by R. L. Cottrell, secretary of the board of directors of the Metropolitan, and by Mr. Hammerstein's prompt response submitted on the following Monday. The Metropolitan announces its intention of instituting legal proceedings to force Hammerstein to stick to his agreement made in 1908 to remain out of the operatic field of New York for ten years, and Hammerstein earnestly invites the Metropolitan to go ahead. He said he welcomed an opportunity to try the issue in the courts, and the sooner the better.

Not by Comparison.
Joe Collins was on his way to rehearsal last week, and a man with a tendency to be obnoxious next to her. In his teeth was a half "dead" cigar with a stench that reached to the far end of the hall. Miss Collins drew herself away as far as possible. The smoker followed her. She moved again and with the same result. Finally, with the evident intention of engaging her in conversation, he spoke.

"I beg your pardon, madam," he said; "is my cigar obnoxious to you?"
Miss Collins gave him one survey and replied:
"Not by comparison, sir."
The next street was where he left.

MME. RAPPOLO OBTAINS HER DIVORCE DECREE

Maria Rappold, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, has obtained a divorce in Colorado from her husband, Dr. Julius C. Rappold, Jr., of 400 Flushing Avenue, Brooklyn. Mme. Rappold went to Colorado for the divorce because she had no ground for action in New York State. The decree was granted her on May 14.

The Notorious Courtroom

One day, shortly after George M. Cohan began his recent engagement in "Broadway Jones" in Chicago, and before the attacks of the theater that bore his name there had gotten used to seeing him at close range, the famous author-actor encountered an old colored woman industriously scrubbing the marble floor of the foyer, chanting the while a doleful dirge-like air.
"Auntie," commented George M. Cohan, "that's a mournful tune you're singing."
"Yes, sir," she answered, "I know it's mournful, but by singing 'dat chune an' mindin' ma own business I spects to git to heaben."

Remarkable Parrot.

George Arliss, of "Dissolai" fame, is going abroad shortly, and Beaconsfield, the Arliss parrot, is going back home, of course. Ever since Mr. Arliss has been visiting them, Beaconsfield has been visiting them. Beaconsfield is cut above the ordinary parrot, and if the doleful Arliss ever descended to the vernacular, he'd speak of Beak as a bird. Beaconsfield knows every line of every part in "Dissolai" and can prompt a player with the accuracy of a gramophone. And the metropolis now boasts of a hotel straight up in the air, and only the master architects and other geniuses of construction have any idea of where they are finally going to call a halt.

How John Drew Keeps Young.

"How do you keep so young, Mr. Drew?" asked a newspaper reporter of the West of the famous actor recently.
"The answer is in Shakespeare," replied Mr. Drew. "Remember, Adam's in my youth did I apply hot and rebellious liquors to my blood. That is my secret, despite the cynics."
"And for continued," "I have a habit of exercise. A man is all right as long as he can keep his hair on and put his stomach off."

De Wolf Hopper Weds Again.

A report reached the Lamb's Club recently that De Wolf Hopper and Miss Eida Curry were secretly married out of town and are spending their honeymoon at the Algonquin Hotel. This is Hopper's fifth matrimonial venture. He was divorced from Nellie Bergen, the actress, a month ago—Special to the Billboard.

Powers' Cut Rate Fails.

Powers' Theater bargain seat sale has failed. "The Money Moon," which was expected to last indefinitely, was suddenly withdrawn and the house is now in darkness.

Fritzi Scheff Obtains Divorce.

The interlocutory divorce decree granted to Fritzi Scheff, prima donna, freeing her from John Fox, Jr., the novelist, was made final by Justice Knapp at White Plains, N. Y., May 15. Detective testified that on May 1, 1912, Fox went with an unidentified woman to the Gerard Hotel, Manhattan, registering as "J. Farley and wife, of New York."

Stirring Prediction.

Care Weldon, the dramatic leading woman, who seems destined to preside over a special column on a daily paper as mistress with age. To progress with wisdom or knowledge seems inconceivable. Miss Weldon is a leading woman in Springfield, Mass., and recently this juvenile genius sent her a postcard on which these stirring predictions were made:
I should marry.
I should care.
I should marry a millionaire.
If he should die.
I should cry.
But I should marry another guy.

Joe Cawthron has put a new line in "The Sunshine Girl," at the Kalambo Theater, New York, and it gets the biggest laugh in the whole play. Cawthron impersonates an ex-cab driver, and he remarks to Vernon Castle who, as everyone knows, is the almost actor extant: "You're the only man who ever rode in the whip socket of my cab."

ELSIE JANIS TO WED!

New York, May 28.—Elsie Janis, who for quite a number of years has been called the youngest and most popular star on the musical comedy stage, has theatrical folk guessing again. A persistent rumor has been going the rounds that Miss Janis has given her heart and hand to a young assistant of District Attorney Whitman. Miss Janis refuses to be interviewed on the subject, and her mother is just as silent. Meanwhile her friends are preparing to buy wedding presents.

The objection to some plots composed of alternate scenes of land and sea, which separate under bromine, has been overcome by the insertion of sheets of paper between the glass which are colored lighter or tinted.

"MOVIES" OF CHILDREN OF PRESS CLUB MEMBERS

Reigning Generation of the Fourth Estate Post on the White House Grounds.

More than a hundred small actors and actresses, children of members of the National Press Club—yesterday posed for the "movies" in the White House Grounds. A film entitled "The Reigning Generation of the Fourth Estate" taken by the club will be shown at the ladies' night entertainment of the clubmen at the New Willard, the evening of June 1.

J. Harry Cunningham, Russell McLennan, and Ralph Graves had the production of the film. Following are children who posed for the film:
"Tom" Suter, Margie Suter, Jennings Harkin, "Fred" Harkin, Jr., Theodore Tiller, Jr., Sarah Waller, Margaret Helms, Paul Helms, Edward Preston, Annabel Esary, Charles Keyser, Jr., Mary Keyser, Marjorie Johns, Jacqueline Du Fay, Evelyn Matthews, Jerry Matthews, Jr., George Monk, John Monk, Jr., Margaret Monk, Melville Grosvenor, Gertrude Grosvenor, Mabel Grosvenor, Lillian Grosvenor, Alexander Grosvenor, Elsie Grosvenor, Marion Smith, Arthur Marks, Jr., Helen Marks, Augusta Kennedy, Katherine Wright, Elizabeth Wright, Roberts Wright, Catherine Kern, William Kern, Mary Henning, Elizabeth Henning, William Dean, Jr., James Jester, Gordon Ridsdale, Betty Ridsdale, Gilbert La Gorce, Jack Grillo, Maurice Grillo, Jerome Watrous, Eleanor McMahon, Judson Corrigan, Betty Bryant, Donald McIsaac, Dorothy Cox, L. White, Jr., A. A. Karger, Virginia C. Harrison, Perry W. Gard, Walter Gard, Jr., C. E. Stewart, Jr., Fred Hornday, Mary Hornday, Hart Walker, H. B. Walker, Jr., Carleton Walker, Clinton Walker, Carl Edward Cooper, Gaines Monk, Alice Monk, Virginia Monk, and Virginia Robinson.

ROOF GARDEN ON SKYSCRAPER.

Hotel McAlpin in New York Has One 25 Stories Above Street.

People have ceased to marvel for more than two or three days at the wonders of architecture. New York's forty-eight-story skyscraper is to give way to one that will rise its height for sixty stories straight up in the air, and only the master architects and other geniuses of construction have any idea of where they are finally going to call a halt.

Right at Chelsea's Fashionable Bathing Beach. Here you find rest and abundance. The ocean rolls up to the hotel right up to 42d under the hotel piazza; its music is grand and soothing. Distinctly, the Ostend has the finest location on the Beach. Within easy walking distance and roller chair ride to the center of life and gaiety for which Atlantic City is famous.

The hotel is equipped with everything necessary for human comfort and caters to the best patronage.

All baths, private and public, have hot and cold running fresh and sea water. When the temperature is highest and cities hot and grimy, the Ostend is the coolest and most comfortable hotel in Atlantic City. Rooms large, airy, and 95 per cent
